DID SHAKESPEARE PEN THE BIBLE? WHY NOT?

Baconian Cipher Shows He Wrote Psalms, Says Expert Satirically.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—If Bacon wrote Shakespeare, Shakespeare wrote the Bible. Such was the satirical pronouncement of Dr. Charles William Wallace, professor of the University of Nebraska, conceded by no less a person than Dr. Felix Schelling himself, an authority on Shakespeare, to have made more contributions to Shakespeareana than all other investigators combined for three generations. Dr. Wallace addressed the Contemporary Club last night at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

"Using a Baconian cipher, and assuming as Elizabethan scholars frequently do that the bard spelled his name 'Shakespeare,'" said Dr. Wallace, carrying out his satire, "we find four vowels and six consonants. These make the number 46, which if applied to the Psalms shows that the forty-sixth word of the forty-sixth Psalm is 'shake' and the forty-sixth from the end is preceded by 'pear.' That the Bible is the book referred to is proved by its being revised in the forty-sixth year of Shakespeare's life, and that it was completed in a year and a half, which is the quotient of six divided by four."

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing skin, liver, and kidney troubles in the ten years of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening, and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act in the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.—Adv.

POLICE ON LOOKOUT FOR EUROPE'S CROOKS

Federal and State Authorities Watching for Imported Criminals.

Federal and State police authorities, including the Secret Service and the Bureau of Investigation, have warned the United States Immigration Service to be on the lookout for notorious foreign criminals who are reported to be flocking to this country because of the European war.

Under the law the Immigration Service can detain questionable characters at ports of entry and deport them at the expense of the steamship companies which brought them here.

In this manner it is hoped that a few of the criminals may be stopped from entering the United States, but it is feared that the cleverness of the foreign crooks will defeat efforts of the immigration agents.

Already scores of crooks who for the past decade or more have "worked" the European capitals are in the United States and are using methods to advance their interests which would furnish material for any number of detective stories or melodramatic plays.

It is suspected that among the new crop of crooks from abroad are many white slavers, and the Bureau of Investigation has instructed its men to be especially vigilant for this sort of crime.

Principally, however, the foreigners are of the apparently refined class which commit thefts and carries out intrigues in the more exclusive walks of society.

Among the foreign crooks who have appeared are several famous "hotel workers," several women being among them. These criminals take rooms at the best hotels and then gain stealthy admission to other rooms, stealing jewels and money. The principal hotels in the East have put on extra forces of detectives to protect their guests as a result.

WILL ASK I. C. C. PROBE OF RAIL CAR SHORTAGE

Railroad commissioners of the various States probably will join in a request to the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate the serious shortage of railroad cars, as a result of action taken yesterday by the American Association of Railway Commissioners. The State Railroad Commission of Colorado will be the first to ask formally for such an inquiry.

Commissioner Aylesworth, of Denver, declared the scarcity of available rolling stock had created conditions more serious than the country has ever known, and that a Federal probe into the causes that underlie the situation is imperative.

AMERICAN FARMER MOST EFFICIENT IN THE WORLD

The American farmer has become foremost in efficiency and has mastered all rivals in the world, according to a report of the American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations, in convention here yesterday. He predicted American agriculture would have little difficulty in coping with European competition after the war.

"Already the American farmer is the most efficient farmer in the world," he said. "He does not produce more per acre, but he produces from two to three or four times more per man, or per unit of labor and capital, than the European farmer."

PENNSYLVANIA SYSTEM TESTING 8-HOUR LAW

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, by John G. Johnson, yesterday filed in the United States District Court at Philadelphia a bill in equity asking an injunction against the United States District Attorney in the Eastern district of Pennsylvania, the Middle district of Pennsylvania, and the Western district of Pennsylvania, forbidding them from instituting any proceedings against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company under the so-called Adamson law, or eight-hour law.

The bill of complaint asks that the court declare the eight-hour law and its various sections unconstitutional and void.

An affidavit to the truth of the facts set forth is appended to the bill of complaint and signed by W. W. Atterbury, vice president in charge of operations.

SENATORIAL ELECTION CONTESTS IMPROBABLE

The threat of a contest in the Senatorial election in Indiana and West Virginia, which has been discussed for several days, now seem to be groundless.

Public men arriving in Washington yesterday and presumed to be in a position to speak for the two Indiana Senators declared Senators Kern and Taggart will not countenance a contest. This was given out as being authoritative. By way of emphasis it was explained that both Indiana Senators have been personal friends of Harry New for long years.

Alexandria may shortly have a curfew law to keep children off the streets after a certain hour at night if the City Council adopts the recommendations providing for such a law made by the board of police commissioners at its meeting tonight.

Police Commissioner Knight introduced the resolution.

Many boys, he said, watch the movements of the police, and through a system of signals on the approach of the "bluecoats" scamper away. These boys, he declared, remain on the streets until 10 and 11 o'clock at night and frequently cause trouble to merchants.

Commissioner Knight complimented the police in running down lawbreakers in connection with the enforcement of the prohibition laws.

According to the report of Chief Goings, sixteen persons were arrested for being drunk on the street and eleven for violating the prohibition laws since they became effective, November 1.
